[SPECIAL CABLE DESPATCH TO THE WORLD.] LONDON, Aug. 8 .- It is certain now that the man who jumped from Charing Cross Bridge and lost his life was Larry Donovan, the New York bridge-jumper. The statement was doubted at first because it rested solely on the word of a man named Hargreaves, who admitted that he was drunk at the time he said it.

There seemed to be no reason for Donovar making such a jump at high water, at which time the man was seen to take the leap, as the top of the bridge at that time is no higher from the water than the bridge over the Harlem River at Third avenue.

A policeman saw five men go on the bridge but did not know any of them. Soon after he heard a spinsh and saw a man struggling in the river. The police boat was sent out to rescue him.

but it was too late. When the man's companions saw that he was drowned they ran away, and nothing has since been seen of them. The bridge is undergoing repairs, and it is probable that whoever it was that jumped struck some projecting timbers. Hargreaves says he was going home at the time, half tipsy, and saw a man jump on the railing of the bridge. His companions were urging him on, and just before he jumped the man waved his arms wildly and said: "I am Larry Donovan."

The policeman, who was close by, says he heard nothing of the kind. Hargreaves denies he knew either Donovan or any of the other men. The hat the man left on the bridge affords no clue. The body has not been found yet.

The strongest evidence yet that the man is Donovan is the fact that the latter did not keep an appointment at the Sporting Life office this morning. Donovan had been in condition of pitiful no home and would have starved had not his friends helped him. Some people who saw him on Sunday said he acted like a man out of his head. He may have made the fatal jump in the hope of poverty for the past few weeks. He had no

making a few shillings. LATER -THE EVENING WORLD correspon dent learned for a certainty this afternoon that the man was Donovan. He lodged at No. 4 Angel court with a Mrs. Cooke, and shared a room with Jack Davenport, a prize

Mrs. Cooke's son William who was with Larry when he made the jump, said to THE EVENING WORLD correspondent:

There were four of us with I we had all been drinking. A man named Ryan dared Donovan to jump Charing Cross Bridge, and a little money was put up. A policeman stopped us at first, but we went a little further along and Larry went off the rail like a shot. He did shout 'I am Larry Donovan, 'as Hargreaves savs.

Hargreaves was one of our party. tide was just at flood, and running under the bridge like a mill race. The current was too strong for Donovan, and dragged him

This information is not yet known to the London police, who are inclined to the idea of suicide. This is no such thing, because Donovan had the promise of some money at Newcastle next week. If his body is found, friends here will subscribe to bury it. Donovan's gold medal, which Mr. Fox, of the Police Gazette, gave him, is in pawn for £2.

Dude Esterbrook yesterday removed the shirt of his uniform and played in a gauze wrapper. He didn't look very pretty. Now that he has had time to think it all over, doean't Umpire Keily really believe that Tiernan's run should have counted? The girls' gallery was crowded yesterday when one of those convuisive creatures troke out with: "Oh, my! How funny he does look in short clothes!" No one fainted.

As was foreshadowed in THE EVENING WORLD As was foreshadowed in The Evenino World-Sporting Extra of last evening, the meeting of the American Association at Philadelphia resulted in the return to the 25-cent tariff and guarantee sys-lem; a resolution to the effect that the Brocklyn Club had been indiscreet in approaching Tip O'Nell was passed, and the matter of the wrangie over the Kamas City-Brocklyn game of July 14 was postposed, except that Brocklyn drew a check that the contraction of the property of the state of th

POLO GROUNDS, Aug. 8.—For the third time of Louisville Loses Once More to the he week the Hoosiers and Giants played ball at the Polo Grounds this afternoon. Again did the heavy clouds betoken rain, but narrow escapes from wet weather the past two games led the throngs who admire baseball to hope for a fair The Home Team Got a Lead Early afternoon again to-day.

The same fair weather prophets said the Giants rould win again, too, and thus score their eleventh straight victory and their third successive game won from indianapolis on the home grounds. The Giants were out in force, with Keefe in the box and Ewing placed above Whitney in the batting order. Slattery's low place in the list is due to his weakness. The Hoosiers made a slight change in their line of battle. Esterbrook was laid off, probably for grand-stand playing, and Dally took his place at first. Denny's hands were still in very bad condition and Buckley was substituted. Umpire Kelly officiated again, this time in a new and clean white flannel suit. Four thousand peo-ple were present, and buggies back of the ropes were many. Batting order: NEW YORK. INDIANAPOLIS. Seery, l. f.

First Inning-Ward hit a slow grounder, which Bassett sent to first, and Richardson was a victin to Glasscock and Daily. Tiernan was hit by a pitched ball and stole to second on a passed ball. Connor made the third out by hitting a grounder, which Daily carried to first. Seery struck out, and Buckley, too, pounded the air three times. Hines after wasting considerable energy upon fouls poped up a fly, which Richard-energy upon fouls poped up a fly, which Richardson squeezed.

Second Inning—O'Rourke retired on an easy bounder, which Bassett fielded to first. Ewing filed out to McGeachy, but Whitney banged a beautiful base hit to centre and Slattery bunted a single along the base line to third. Five balls to Keefe filed the base line to third. Five balls to Keefe filed the bases and brought twart to bat, and John Montgomery did just the right thing. He knocked a slow line hit past second on which Whitney and Slattery easily scored. Hichardson hit a fly to Hines. Two runs.

Glasscock and Bassett both hit files which fell into Ternan's hands. Daily took advantage of a slow pitched ball and knocked it to left for two bases. McGeachy went out from Richardson to Connor.

retired on strikes. Ward hit up a fly and Seery caught it.
Glesscock fouled out to Whitney. Bassett was hit on the arm by a pitched ball and took first. He reached second on a passed ball and took third on Ewing's low throw to Richardson. Daily popped a fly to Connor and McGeachy was retired on a grounder to the same big first baseman.

Fifth Inning—After Richardson had knocked up an easy fly to Boyle Tlernau grounded a base hit past second and stole that base by a splendid slide. Connor's sacrifice out from Boyle to Daily advanced Tiernau to third, but usclessly, for O'Rourke flied out to Bassett.

Boyle struck out. Myers hit to Ward and retired at first. Seery, the star batter, was retired on three large and juicy strikes.

Sixth Inning—Ewing killed himself by hitting a grounder to first. Whitney grounded to Bassett and went out at first. Slattery knocked a single to centre and stole second, but heefe struck out. No runs.

short centre. Tiernan made a ordinant steal of second and was warmly applauded, but was left there, O'Hourke striking out. One run. Medesachy went out on a slow hit, which Connor belded to Keefe at first. Ewing here made a righteous and continued kick against Daily and Glasscock, the coachers, who persisted in telling the signs Ewing gave keefe to the batters.

At last chasscock was sent to the bench by Umpire Kelly. Boyle filed out to Stattery and Myers to Keefe.

Eighth Inning—Ewing struck out. Whitney hit a high fly to Seery, and Stattery's line fly to right furnished a brilliant catch to McGeachy.

Five balls gave Seery first, Buckley hit a long fly to Sisttery. Seery tried to steal second, but was resired by Ewing's first on balls. Connor made a great catch of Glasscock's foul fly.

Louisville . INY TELEPHONE TO THE EVENING WORLD. WASHINGTON PARE, BROOKLYN, Aug. 8.-The Louisvilles played their third game with the Grooms this afternoon. The Western Union telegraph facilities were so bad that it was impossi to send a detailed report of the game. Terry and Peeples were in the points for the Brooklyn nine, and a similar service was done for the Colonels by Stratton and Cook.

Umpire-Mr. Ferguson. The Grooms will leave at once for Cincinnat where they play their next game.

The attendance was quite slim and that desp the fact that it was ladies' day.

What was lacking in numbers, however, was made up in enthusiasm, and every good play which was made by the home team or visitors was loadly applauded. BROOKLYN. LOUISVILLE. BROOKLYN.
